DISCREDIT ATTEMPTED DESECRATION.

Friends of Late President Don't Think Tomb Was Attacked---

Atlanta Soldiers' Home Burned.

Special to THE TELEGRAPH.

CANTON, O., Sept. 30.—Friends of the late President McKinley emphatically discredit belief in the idea that the shot reported to have been fired by one of the guards at the cemetery last night was on account of an attempt to desecrate the tomb.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 30.—The Soldiers' Home, a state institution but recently finished, was burned today. No lives were lost, but the property loss is placed at $25,000.

THOUGHT HE WAS KILLED.

John Heckman Hit on Head With Bottle by Zach Adams.

John Heckman of Dixon and Zachariah Adams of Grand Detour with several others, spent Saturday night at a house south of the Phalen quarries on the Daysville road. They had plenty of drinkables. Along about 4 o'clock yesterday morning the two named became involved in a dispute and Adams hit Heckman over the head with a beer bottle. The bottle shattered and inflicted some ugly cuts on Heckman's scalp and rendered him unconscious. Blood flowed down over the wounded man's head and shoulders until he was a gory sight. The others tried hard to resuscitate him, assisted by the thoroughly frightened Adams. Failing in this they came to the conclusion that he was dead. Sheriff M. J. McGowan and Chief of Police Woodruff were notified and hurried to the scene. Upon their arrival they found Heckman in possession of his senses and very much alive.

Before Justice R. H. Scott today Adams was placed under $200, bonds which he furnished and the case continued until next Monday on a charge of assault and battery.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB.

First Meeting of the Season Tomorrow.

The first meeting of the Phidian Art Club for the season of 1901-2 will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, October 1st, with Mrs. L. D. Dement, 421 Peoria avenue, at 2:30 o'clock. The program will embrace the president's annual address by Mrs. Christiana D. Parsons, and papers on current topics by Mrs. Louise P. Steel and Misses Margaret Brooks and Adelia Pinckney. The field of art study to be covered by the club the coming year will be Architecture, a most interesting one, and the list of topics show that it is to be treated in a comprehensive way. The high educational influence of this society, since its organization is beyond compute, and the work planned for the coming year promises to be of more than usual interest.

It is especially desirable that at the initial meeting tomorrow there should be a full attendance of the membership and a most cordial invitation is extended to all honorary, associate and waiting members.

Prairieville Basket Society.

The Prairieville school gave a delightful program and sojourn last Friday evening at the Prairieville school which was attended by a large number of people. A program of considerable merit was rendered, which was followed by the selling of baskets and the eating of good things that the baskets contained. A neat sum of money was realized from the sale of baskets, which will be used in purchasing books for the library.

Dollar Sale.

G. O. Wendel calls attention of our readers, by an ad on first page, also a bill folded in tonight's paper, calling attention to his Dollar Sale to commence tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. DEATH OF MISS MABEL HART.

Dies From Appendicitis in Rockford Hospital—Attended Dixon College.

The death of Miss Mabel Hart, formerly of Ashton, occurred late yesterday afternoon at Rockford. She was 22 years of age and a daughter of Mrs. Catherine Hart. Mrs. Hart is an invalid and somewhat more than a month ago moved to Rockford for her health with her family. Last Wednesday Miss Mabel was taken suddenly ill and was removed to a hospital in Rockford, where on Thursday she was operated upon for appendicitis. The operation was a last resort and was undertaken with small hopes of her recovery.

Miss Hart attended Dixon College for a year or more and has many friends in the city who will mourn her death. She was an elocutionist of considerable ability. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Christian Endeavor society, and was an earnest Christian. Mrs. Hart has left to solace her aching heart two daughters and three sons, Misses Lucy and Mary and Messrs. Will, Frank and Charles Hart.

The funeral services will be held in Ashton at 10:30 tomorrow, (Tuesday) morning, with burial at Lee Center.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

Thomas F. Cochran of Chicago Jumps From Railroad Track Into Roadway 20 Feet Below.

Thomas F. Cochran arrived in Dixon from Chicago Saturday and vainly tried to procure work here. He remained at the depot over night and dozed around on trucks and benches until morning when he started to walk to Nelson. He was on the north or east bound track and in the middle of the bridge over the road near the wagon factory when the 5:58 east bound passenger came around the curve at express speed. Cochran for some reason did not notice the train until it was almost upon him. Instead of jumping to the left, to the other track he jumped to the outside of the right of way and this landed him over the side of the bridge and he fell into the road below. The train immediately slowed up and backed to the scene of the accident. It was found beyond rather severe injuries to the right foot Cochran was uninjured. He was taken to the hospital and will remain there until the bruises are well. He states that he did not notice that he was in the middle of the bridge as he was more than half asleep.

Death of Dr. Frank Cullen.

Chicago papers contain the announcement of the death in that city of Dr. Frank C. Cullen. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cullen and was born and reared in May township, Lee county. He attended the schools of the township and was a school mate of Sheriff M. J. McGowan. He later attended Rush Medical college in Chicago from which he graduated with honor. He was 42 years of age and possessed a lucrative practice in Chicago. The funeral will occur at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday, from the late residence, 1701 West Twelfth street, to St. Agatha's church where high mass will be celebrated, thence by carriages to Mount Carmel cemetery.

Music for Annual Party.

Arrangements have been made for a fine orchestra to furnish music for the ninth annual party of the Marquette club to be given at the G. G. Rosbrook hall Wednesday evening, October 23. The Dixon Mandolin Club will be assisted by Professors Bain, harpist; Buell, flute and piccolo; Antonio, violinist; Marco, cello. Promenade will be at 9 p.m. sharp and luncheon will be served at the European Hotel at 12 o'clock. The invitations will soon be out.

New Floor Coverings.

While in Chicago Saturday Sheriff M. J. McGowan ordered cork floor carpet for the space inside the railing of the circuit court room, and rubber matting for the aisles about the room. These floor coverings are very substantial and well-made.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Report of the Illinois Section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the Week Ending Sept. 23.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 24, 1901

The past week has been cold and frosts occurred on several days. These were generally light and injured vegetation only slightly, but in a few localities they were heavy and caused considerable injury. The injury was generally greater in the southern district than in other parts of the state. Light rains fell over most of the state and these, together with the rains of the previous week, have placed the soil in fine condition for plowing and preparation for seeding. This work has been carried on extensively during the week, and a great deal of ground is now prepared for seeding, which will be done with in a few days. In some localities, especially in the southeastern portion of the central district, the ground is still too dry for plowing, and this work has been delayed considerably. Considerable wheat and rye have been sown in some places, and much of it is now up and doing well. The great part of the corn crop is now beyond danger from frost, though considerable damage is reported to have resulted in some localities from the frosts of the past week. Some very late corn would be injured by frost within a few days, but it is believed that practically the entire crop will be safe by October 1. The estimates of the crop have not changed materially. In a few localities it is better than was expected, while in a few others it is not so good. A great deal has been cut for fodder during the week, and the greater part of that to be used for this purpose is already in shock. Broomcorn harvest is well advanced, and the reports regarding the crop continue favorable. There has been considerable injury to stock peas by frost. Reports regarding the yield of clover seed continue favorable. Pastures have benefited greatly by the recent rains and in many localities are becoming green as in spring. In some parts of the central and southern districts, however, the rains have been insufficient to revive them greatly, and they are not doing well. In a few localities apples are yielding better than was expected, and in a few others not so well. A good crop of peaches is being marketed. The potato crop continues poor, but there has been considerable improvement in the northern district. Sweet potatoes and late garden truck have suffered considerably from frost.

Lee—Nachusa—C. B. Crawford—Cold, wet week; frost damaged corn considerably; a great deal of clover cut for seed, but it is too wet to hull.

Episcopal Church May Change Its Name.

The Protestant Episcopal church may change its name at the tri-ennial convention, soon to be held in San Francisco. Bishop Grafton of Fond du Lac, Wis., makes this statement concerning the innovation:

"I am in favor of it from first to last," he said, "and will vote for it in the convention if the question comes up. The church at the present time might be compared to a confederation of states. The Anglican communion consists of a number of distinct religious organizations. There is the Church of England, Scotland, Ireland, India, south Africa, Australia, central Africa, New Zealand and the Episcopal church of the United States. None of these other organizations are called Protestant Episcopal, but all are known by the name of the country in which they are situated.

"The term Protestant is objectionable to many persons because it has lost its original meaning. Originally it meant the opposite of secession. When a trouble arises within any organization two courses are open to secede and go out or stay in and protest. At the time of the reformation of the church in England the church there reformed herself and did not separate from the body. It would not secede, but remained in, uttering its protest.

"Now the term Protestant has lost its old significance and means anything or everything, no one knows what, and stands for a sort of go-as-you-please religion. A large number of churchmen desire to drop what they consider a misnomer."

—Miss Gertrude Hill of North Dixon has gone to Springfield to visit her brother, Elmer, and the state fair.

—Fred Chandler is home from a visit at the Buffalo Exposition. His grandmother, Mrs. Mary Chandler, accompanied him out from Chicago.

—Clarence Hill of North Dixon has gone to Waterman, Ill., to relieve his brother, George M., in the grocery store there while the latter goes to Springfield for a few days.

—Attorney Charles Barge has about decided to locate in New York city and with that object in view will go east in a few weeks. Many friends in Dixon were in hopes that he would remain at home.

—Charles Walgren was out from Chicago for an over Sunday visit.

A COMMON ERROR
The Same Mistake is Made by Dixon People.

It's a common error
To plaster the aching back,
To rub with liniment rheumatic joints
When the trouble comes from the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.
And are endorsed by Dixon citizens.
Mrs. C. Spiller of 1203, Seventh St., says: "When a sufferer from severe pain across the loins which refuses to ease with ordinary treatment at last manages to radically dispose of it by the use of a medicine that sufferer is only too pleased to let the public know the means employed to get relief. I went to Leake's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and took a course of treatment. It cured me. I am only too pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at E. M. Bunnell Co. It Happened In a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if it did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Rowland Bros.

TAGALSWINAVICTORY

United States Troops Surprised at Breakfast and Only Twenty-Four Escape.

ELEVEN OF THEM ARE WOUNDED

Company Contained Seventy-Two Men When It Was Attacked.

News of Such a Disaster Creates a Sensation at Washington—Facts About the Scene of the Fight.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The war department has received the following dispatch from General Chaffee: "Manila, Sept. 29.—Adjutant General, Washington: Hughes reports following from Bassey, southern Samar: 'Twenty-four men of the Ninth regiment, United States infantry, wounded, have just arrived from Balangiga; remainder of company killed. Insurgents secured all company supplies and all rifles except twelve. Company was attacked during breakfast, morning Sept. 28; company seventy-two strong; Thomas W. Connelly (captain), Edward A. Bumpus (first lieutenant), Dr. R. S. Griswold (major surgeon) escaped.' (Signed) CHAFFEE."

Fight Was Most Disastrous.
Manila, Sept. 30.—A disastrous fight between United States troops and insurgents occurred Saturday in the island of Samar, near Balangiga. A large body of insurgents attacked Company C, Ninth infantry, only twenty-four members of the company escaping. All the others are reported to have been killed. The company was at breakfast when attacked, and made a determined resistance, but the overwhelming numbers of the insurgents compelled them to retreat.

Preparing to Attack the Assaults.
Of the survivors who have arrived at Base eleven are wounded. According to the latest returns the strength of the company was seventy-two. The survivors include Captain Thomas W. Connelly, First Lieutenant Edward A. Bumpus and Dr. R. S. Griswold, surgeon. Captain Edwin V. Brookmiller, of the Ninth infantry, reports that General Hughes is assembling a force to attack the insurgents. The insurgents captured all the stores and ammunition of the company and all the rifles except twenty-six.

Another Severe Engagement.
Manila, Sept. 30.—Captain Lawrence J. Hearn, of the Twenty-first infantry, reports a severe engagement with insurgents near Candelaria, the Americans losing one killed and two wounded. The insurgent loss has not been ascertained. The Americans captured 30,000 pounds of rice and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

NEWS CREATES A SENSATION

Island on Which the Fight Occurred Never Occupied by the Spaniards.

Washington, Sept. 30.—News of the disastrous fight between troops of the Ninth infantry and the insurgents in the island of Samar Saturday was sent promptly by General Hughes, commanding in that island, to General Chaffee at Manila, and by him transmitted to the war department. It reached the department during the early hours yesterday, and Adjutant General Corbin, realizing its importance, at once made it public, after sending a copy to the White House. The news created a sensation in official circles. It was the first severe reverse that has occurred for a long time. Still the officials were not unprepared for news of just this character from Samar, in which the revolution started by Aguinaldo still continues. Samar is a country about as large as the state of Ohio, and the American forces of occupation number in all between 2,000 and 2,500 men. These are distributed among various posts in the island, a large number being located at the more important centers. Spain never made any effort to occupy Samar, and it only has been for probably three months past that the United States has undertaken that work.

The latest report made by General Hughes to the war department was that the number of insurgent rifles in the island aggregated about 300. The Filipinos carried on a guerrilla warfare, and operations against them were difficult. Immediately upon receipt of the dispatch Adjutant General Corbin cabled General Chaffee to send a complete report of the fight and a list of the casualties. A well-known official of the government, in speaking of this outbreak against the American forces in Samar, said he regarded it as a consequence of the assassination of President McKinley. In all probability the insurgents had received, he said, only meager reports of the tragedy, and possibly believed the shooting to be the result of some popular outbreak against the president. The natives had seized the opportunity in the flickering hope of retrieving some of their lost ground.

Had to Have a Receiver.
Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 30.—W. O. Maxey, president and treasurer of the Oshkosh Water Works company, has been appointed receiver for that concern, and his bonds fixed at $50,000. The appointment of a receiver was rendered imperative by the foreclosure of a mortgage of $200,000 upon the property of the company.

Figaro Is Uninformed.
Paris, Sept. 30.—Referring to a report published abroad that a staff correspondent of the Paris Figaro has penetrated to the prison among brigands of Miss Stone, the kidnapped citizen of the United States, and had an interview with her, The Figaro says it has not heard of the matter yet, and has not published a line of such news.

Notice to All Postmasters.
Washington, Sept. 30.—The postoffice department has issued formal notice to all postmasters that the recent amended postal regulations regarding second-class rates will be enforced strictly after Oct. 1.

PROWLERS AT THE TOMB

STARTLING STORY FROM CANTON

Two Men Seen by a Sentry, One of Whom Attacks Him With a Knife.

Canton, O., Sept. 30.—A strange story came from Westlawn cemetery last night, where a company of regulars from Fort Wayne, Michigan, is guarding the vault in which the body of the late President McKinley lies. Captain Biddle declined to make a statement, but will report to his superiors, but reliable authorities made the following statement: Private DePrend was on guard duty on top of the vault at a point commanding the entrance below and the approach from the rear. Shortly before 7:30 p. m. he saw what he took to be the face of a man peering from behind a tree about forty feet from his post. He watched it for twenty minutes, he says, and at 7:45 saw the man hurry to a tree ten feet nearer.

He challenged the man to halt, but this was not heeded, and the fellow approached nearer. DePrend leveled his gun and aimed to shoot for effect, but just at that instant another man, who came toward him from the opposite side, caught the gun, threw it up, and the bullet was spent in the air. This same man, who was masked, struck DePrend on the right side of the abdomen with a knife or other sharp weapon, cutting a gash in his blouse. The flesh was not broken, but was bruised under the cuts in the clothing. DePrend in the struggle fell and rolled down the side of the vault. Since the incident stories have been told in camp of some incendiary conversations overheard in the crowds that have visited the cemetery, including one yesterday alleging that some stranger said: "Lots of people would like to see this whole thing blown up." There are seventy soldiers at the cemetery, twenty of whom are constantly on guard duty about the vault and camp.

REV. DR. GRAY IS DEAD

Venerable Editor of The Interior Has Passed to His Reward.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Rev. Dr. William C. Gray, the venerable editor of The Interior, a publication of the Presbyterian church, died yesterday at his home in Oak Park. Dr. Gray, who was in his seventieth year, underwent a surgical operation just before he left Chicago for his summer vacation in the Wisconsin woods.

When he returned a few weeks ago he was in a weakened condition. He grew gradually weaker, and for several days his friends had realized that there was no hope for his recovery. Dr. Gray was one of the foremost Presbyterians of the west and had been identified with The Interior for over thirty years.

Reported Disaster a Mistake.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 30.—Reports from Cloquet, Wis., of the sinking of the steamers Saturn and Satellite evidently originated from the sinking of the steamer Pathfinder, acting as tow-boat of the Saturn, two or three days ago. The crew escaped, and the boat is still afloat.

PITH OF THE INQUIRY

Substance of the Record Made by the Board Looking Into Schley's Operations.

CAPTAIN M'CALLA ENDS HIS STORY

Question of Coaling Off Santiago May 27, 1898—Verifying a Disputed Dispatch.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The testimony given before the Schley board of inquiry Saturday was decidedly interesting to both parties to the controversy. Captain McCalla was on the stand at the opening of the court, and the first thing Counsel Hanna did when court opened was to apologize for using the word "accused" instead of "applicant" when referring Friday to Admiral Schley. Captain McCalla then testified that there were no shoals or other obstacles to prevent battleships approaching Santiago harbor to find and attack the Spanish vessel Colon, and that the ships under Schley's command did not go within range of the Colon, which the department had ordered destroyed as soon as possible. All the shots fired fell short.

That Code of Signals Again.

McCalla also testified that so far as he knew the code of signals agreed upon with the Cuban insurgents was not made known to Schley. He had informed Captain Chadwick, of the New York, Sampson's flagship, of the code. He said, however, that at the time he could have informed Schley of the code with any advantage to Schley he did not know Schley was going to Cienfuegos. He agreed with other witnesses that there would have been little difficulty in coaling the ships under Schley on May 26 and 27—the time Schley said he could not coal and would have to go to Key West for that purpose.

Coaling Question Is Important.

Admiral Dewey and his colleagues on the bench are paying close attention to the testimony relating to the possibility of coaling vessels off Santiago the latter part of May. They are anxious to get reliable information concerning Schley's contention that it was necessary for him to start for Key West in alleged violation of orders. One thing that came out during McCalla's testimony seemed intended to imply that McCalla was the original author of the phrase "glory enough for all" in Schley's official report. McCalla testified that he made that remark to Schley July 5, 1898, while on a visit to Schley on the Brooklyn.

M'CALLA CLOSING HIS STORY

What Was Told by Lieut. Com. Southernland and Lieut. C. B. Barnes.

McCalla also testified that so far as he could remember he had no orders as to course of action in case the Spanish ships should come out of Santiago harbor until May 29. On that day Schley called all the officers aboard the flagship and talked over the blockade. Just before they separated Captain Evans brought up the subject, and an arrangement was made for subdivision of fire in case Cervera should try to break loose. McCalla said that a memorandum prepared by himself and quoted by Admiral Sampson in his report of Aug. 3, 1898, as having been placed in possession of Admiral Schley contained all the information except the secret code which he possessed concerning the insurgents.

Lieutenant Commander W. H. H. Southernland was the next witness, and told of the part his vessel, the Eagle, had played. He told of signalling the Scorpion to inform Commodore Schley that the Spanish squadron was not in the harbor at Cienfuegos. Rayner questioned Southernland concerning his megaphone message to the Scorpion on May 19, and displayed the log-book of that vessel to show that while other facts were mentioned as having been megaphoned by the Eagle there was no mention of the fact that Commander Southernland had said anything about the conditions at Cienfuegos. The witness said in reply to a question that his own log made no mention of his message. "It was evidently," he said, "a question of whether the young officer on deck at that time put down my exact words."

Lieutenant Barnes was again called. Pending his appearance Hanna made a statement concerning the two versions of the Schley dispatch of May 28. He said: "There is no more important paper before the court than this telegram, and in order to discount its importance—in order to weaken its force on the record here suggestions that the dispatch as printed by the government is not correct." He then said that he proposed to show that the dispatch was correct, word for word, cipher-word for cipher-word, as it was received by the navy office, and as it left the West Indies, and that it was so confirmed by the telegraph company.

REFERS TO A DISPUTED DISPATCH

Lieut. Barnes Tells What He Does and Doesn't Know Thereof.

Lieutenant Barnes was then shown and identified the cipher copy book of the auxiliary cruiser Harvard, which vessel during the war was under command of Captain (now Admiral) Cotton. This was the vessel which carried Admiral Schley's dispatch to Kingston to be there transmitted by cable to Washington. Lieutenant Barnes said he was familiar with the department cipher code, and that Friday night and Saturday morning he had made a translation of the dispatch as presented. He then read his translation and was questioned concerning it by Hanna and testified that he had compared the dispatch he sent to the Kingston telegraph office and found that it was correct in every essential particular.

After Hanna was through, Rayner, Schley's counsel, said: "I do not think there is any disagreement between us. There was a dispatch sent by Commodore Schley, delivered to Captain Cotton on the Harvard. That dispatch was translated into cipher on board the Harvard, between Santiago and Kingston. That cipher translation came here to Washington, and you made a translation, which I have no doubt is perfectly correct. That translation seems to accord in most particulars, with the exception of some trivial things, with the translation you have in the appendix."

Rayner then cross-examined the witness, first asking him whether he had any knowledge that the cipher dispatch in question is a correct translation of the dispatch that Commodore Schley gave to Captain Cotton. "I have no special knowledge that it was," the witness replied.

"Now, in Admiral Schley's letter book I want to show you an entry. The word 'confirm' occurs. Does that not mean that the navy department has confirmed that dispatch by comparing it with the original?"

"It does not mean that to me." Upon questioning he added that he did not know where the original dispatch was, and Rayner said: "Then we have here this case: We have a dispatch sent by Admiral Schley, delivered to Captain Cotton, translated into cipher, and you do not know whether that cipher is a correct translation of the original, and you cannot tell us where we can get that original dispatch so that we can ascertain whether this press copy does not correspond with the original dispatch delivered to Captain Cotton?" Rayner and Captain Parker closed by stating there was no intention on their part to cast any imputation on the department.

CANAL TREATY FORMULATED

Said To Be Ready for Signature and an Improvement on the First.

London, Sept. 30.—Correspondence regarding the Nicaragua canal treaty has ceased, the treaty being in form for signature. The only authoritative information obtainable about it here is that it is considerably better for the United States than the preceding one.

The utmost reserve exists respecting the neutrality clause. In other respects the treaty follows the general lines of the old one.

Injunction Against a State Board.

Pontiac, Ill., Sept. 30.—An injunction issued by Judge Moffatt, of the circuit court of this district, has been served upon the board of managers of the state reformatory, restraining the board from removing Dr. James A. Marshall, physician at the institution. The board has attempted to remove Dr. Marshall, as he asserts, contrary to law.

DIXON WINS ON TWO FIELDS.

Dixon High School 5, Oregon 0--
North Dixon High School 40,
Polo 0.

The Dixon High School Foot Ball team opened the season at Oregon Saturday, September 28th, by defeating Oregon 5 to 0. The game was an excellent exhibition from start to finish. In spite of the warm weather the game was played with a great deal of snap. The Dixon boys showed that they were in good condition by playing a fast game after the long, tiresome ride to Oregon. The score does not indicate the real strength of the two teams as Dixon out-played Oregon all through the game but lost on fumbles. Only twice during the game did Oregon hold Dixon for downs. The fumbling was due partially to the fact that several of the Dixon team are new men. By more practice this can be reduced to a minimum and will add very much to the team's offensive play. On defensive play Dixon was very strong, repeatedly holding Oregon for downs. For Oregon Capt. Taylor at fullback was easily the star. His bucking was of good quality but it was not till the latter part of the game that he found a weak place in Dixon's line. Paddock should also be mentioned as playing a strong aggressive game. It would be unfair to mention any individual player and say that he played the game for Dixon, for every man was in every play, and team work won. Capt. Richardson at left half displayed good judgment in managing his team, and made repeated gains through Oregon's line. The trio in the center of the line, Crawford, Tracy and Best, proved themselves well fitted for their positions. Again and again the heavy backs of Oregon plunged against these men only to meet a "stonewall." At tackles Dement and Dille played a good game. Dement by his repeated gains proved himself a sure ground gainer for his team. In addition to playing his place at tackle Dille called signals for his team and showed good judgment in selecting his plays. At ends Dixon and Smith played a strong game. Not once did Oregon make any gain on end runs. Smith tackling was sure and hard. Dixon tackled well and made good gains for his team. At quarterback Levi played his first game and his handling of the ball was good and with experience he bids fair to make an excellent foot ball player. Connors played a fast game at right half, tackling hard and running well behind his interference. Connors made a 50 yard run for his team and a few seconds later was pushed over for the only touchdown of the game. Peach played a strong game at fullback, plunging through the line time and again for good gains. Oregon won the toss and Capt. Taylor chose the east goal. At 2:45 Dement kicked off for Dixon kicking to Oregon's 15 yard line Paddock ran back 5 yards and was downed. Oregon at once began to buck the line but failed to gain the necessary 5 yards on three downs and lost the ball to Dixon. Dixon bucked the line and gained for a few plays, but were held for downs. Oregon again tried line plays and lost the ball for downs a second time. Dixon tried two line plays and on the third down tried a goal from the field, but Oregon blocked the kick, gaining the ball 20 yards. Again Oregon was held and on the third down punted to Best, who returned the ball five yards. Then a 20 yard end run by George Dixon and 5 yards by Richardson, put the ball within 10 yards of Oregon's goal. Here it seemed sure that Dixon would score, but they lost the ball on a fumble. Organ carried the ball back 7 yards, and lost it on a fumble. Dixon carried the ball back to Oregon's 10 yard line where time was called for the first half. Score, Dixon 0, Oregon 0.

In the second half Taylor kicked off to Dement at Dixon's 40 yard line. By successive kicks by Peach, Dement and Richardson the ball was Dixon's on their 50 yard line. Then came the most spectacular play of the game. Behind the magnificent interference of Richardson, Peach and Levi, Connors sprinted around the left end for a 55 yard run to Oregon's 5 yard line. After 2 yard and 3 yard gains by Peach and Richardson, Connors was pushed over for a touchdown. Dixon failed to kick goal. Taylor again kicked off to Best, who carried the ball to Dixon's 45 yard line. After advancing the ball to the center, Dixon lost on a fumble. By continued line-bucking Oregon worked the ball back to Dixon's 15-yard line when the end of the second half was called. Score: Dixon 5, Oregon 0. The line-up was as follows:

DIXON.	POSITION.	OREGON.
Dixon	RE	Valentine

NORTH DIXON-POLO GAME.

The first football game in Dixon for this season was played at Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon between the Polo and North Dixon high schools. The score was boosted up to 40 for Dixon. Polo never have a chance to score. Polo kicked off to Dixon who took the ball back for a touch down in 1 1/2 minutes, but failed to kick goal. A second touchdown was made by Miller through strong play and thenceforth the North Dixon boys had things their own way, making steady gains and touchdowns with the greatest regularity. Miller failed on kicking goal. In little over a minute Lord went around Polo's end for another touchdown, Miller kicking goal. Polo kicked off to Minnehan, who was downed after a good run. Anderson soon received the ball and darted over the line for another touchdown. Miller kicked goal. Polo got the ball, but lost it to Dixon just at the close of the half the score standing Dixon 22, Polo 0.

The last half was a repetition of the first, Dixon forging ahead repeatedly through Polo's interference. The team play of the North Dixon boys was excellent and showed the effect of good practice. Captain Miller's handling of his men showed good judgement and a quick perception of the weak points in his opponent's line-up. Each man of his team was always in the right place at the right time and did good work throughout. Two touchdowns were made by Dutcher and one by Bovey in this half, goals being kicked by Miller. Score Dixon 40, Polo 0.

Referee—Walter Page. Umpire—Martin Stryver, Polo. Timekeepers—Tom Reed, Polo; George Irwin. Linemen—Max Allaban, Polo; Fred Mead.

The line-up was as follows:

Dixon Woman's Club.

The opening meeting of the Woman's Club held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Thompson was a very enthusiastic one. After singing "America," a recitation was given by Miss Hanson, which showed fine dramatic power for one so young and elicited hearty applause.

Reading of minutes was followed by the president's address. This was broad, comprehensive and concise. The policy outlined was a looking forward, not backward, making the success of the year's work dependent on individual loyalty and effort.

A piano solo by Miss Allie Teal delighted the members, as her playing always does. Mrs. Clark being absent from the city, Mrs. J. H. Thompson took her place on Assembly Notes. She reviewed many of the entertainments and gave some valuable and just criticisms. Mrs. Cole emphasized one thought which she had found in all lectures attended, and Mrs. Huguett read a carefully prepared paper analyzing several of the prominent lectures and quoting many effective passages.

"What Did Last Year's Club Program Do for Me?" was led by Mrs. Shaver in a short, bright paper. The discussion brought out many words of appreciation which warmed the heart of the program committee.

Arrangements were made for the last payment on the piano. Several propositions from the owners of various halls were submitted by the house committee and after full discussion were referred back to the committee for final action. Mrs. J. H. Thompson was endorsed as candidate for the office of vice president of this congressional district to fill the place of Miss Edie Shaw whose term expires this year.

A resolution was put on record endorsing the action of the Sterling Woman's Club in passing resolutions protesting against the character of certain entertainments at the fair held recently in Sterling. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Thompson for her hospitality to the Club and a few minutes of social interchange came after adjournment.

THE REV. JOHN M. CHATTIN SPEAKS. Gives Forceful Address at St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. John M. Chattin of Chicago gave a forceful address at St. Luke's Episcopal church at the morning service yesterday. His topic was the diocesan missions in Chicago and their needs. A short sermon prefaced the address, the subject of which was from the tenth verse of the ninety-seventh Psalm: "Ye that love the Lord, hate evil." All lives are dominated by these two little words, love and hate, said Mr. Chattin. We are commanded to hate as well as to love—to hate evil. Our ability to hate evil is a test of our power to love God. Although we may profess to love God; we frequently toy with evil and possibly entertain the thought that we can be pushed into heaven by some miracle. On the battlefield the soldier who runs away is despised. We are engaged in battle every day and are called upon to enter the fray and fight for the Master on the side of right. Sin, evil, wrong and the devil are arrayed against God, but there is no doubt of the final outcome of the battle. I am here to tell you of one of the dark spots where one of these battle is continually going on. There is evil in the country—in Dixon—but not such loathsome evil as in the great cities. It is a pleasure to preach in such a place as this and there is such a difference between the congregation of this church and my own in Chicago. There are three branches of diocesan mission work: Mission work in country districts of the diocese; mission work in stations in the city of Chicago and establishment of new stations; and mission work in city and county charitable and penal institutions.

The Rev. Chattin has been for eleven years engaged in mission work in Chicago and he related many pathetic incidents and scenes among the people to whom he is ministering. Chicago and this diocese is supporting but four missionaries as against forty in New York City. There is great need of more missionaries and more funds to carry on the work. Mr. Chattin gave a sketch of the work being done and the great amount left undone through impossibility to perform it. His fervid descriptions brought tears to the eyes of all.

Pretty Home Wedding.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Crawford, south of town, occurred the wedding of their daughter, Olive Mary, to Reinhard C. Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Gross of South China; Rev. C. W. Anthony of Aurora being the officiating clergyman.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the affair throughout was a very pretty and pleasing one. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk mull and wore a veil; the groom was dressed in conventional black. There were no bridesmaids, Mrs. C. L. Booth occupying the position of Matron of Honor, while Fred Gross attended his brother as groomsmen. Miss Flora Wicker presided at the piano and rendered the wedding march.

The guests present numbered about one hundred and thirty, those from abroad being: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Booth of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. H. Reinhart and daughter, Mrs. Turner of Sioux City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gross of Ashton, and C. B. Crawford of Nachusa.

The wedding presents included an exceptionally large list of beautiful and useful articles, testifying to the genuine good will and esteem of the donors.

Reiny and May, as they are familiarly known among their associates, have long been recognized as two of our brightest and best young people and it is a large circle of friends and acquaintances with whom The Reporter joins in wishing them a happy and prosperous life journey.—Franklin Reporter.

Freaddoff's Opening Tomorrow.

Ernest Freaddhoff, who purchased the "Maine" saloon at 212 First street, will have an opening tomorrow with free lunch all day. Mr. Freaddhoff's experience in handling city water while on the fire department force has not detracted from his former efficiency in handling more effervescent liquids and his popularity assures him a prosperous business.

Read Heads.

Prof. Gortsen, a very clever phrenologist and palmist, has located in Dixon after a two years residence in Rockford and Elgin. He has recommendations from mayors and other officials of the two cities named above, as to his reliability in his line of work. He is located at 412 First, opposite Clark's hotel.

Good Catch.

Waldo Ward, W. N. Gilbert and Wm. Carr drove to White Rock yesterday and happening to have their tackle along caught twenty-seven black bass in a short time.

ROBERT E. SPEER WILL SPEAK. Famous Young Orator Will Address the Y. M. C. A. State Convention at Dixon.

Robert E. Speer, secretary of the board of foreign missions, New York, will deliver three addresses at the state convention of the Illinois Young Men's Christian Associations, to be held in Dixon, Oct. 17 to 20, inclusive. Mr. Speer has won fame early in life as a scholar, an athlete, a bible student, an orator, a writer and a zealous champion of the foreign missionary enterprise.

Born in Pennsylvania in 1868, he entered Princeton college in 1885. His rare traits of leadership were early manifested in his college life. He was regarded by his fellow students as the best debater in college, and at the same time he was the favorite athlete, serving one year as captain of the Princeton college football team. During his college course he consecrated his life to the cause of foreign missions. His scholarship was of the very best, and he was graduated "summa cum laude," being one of the three men who have been so honored in all of Princeton's history.

Since leaving college he has continued to devote his life to the cause of foreign missions and has been a giant in the moment especially among the various colleges of the country.

He has met with great success as a Bible teacher and as a platform speaker at the various summer schools and conferences. At the invitation of the British students he visited England in the summer of 1894, giving a number of addresses at the Keswick meetings. He is the author of a number of valuable works pertaining to the Bible. His book, "The Man Christ Jesus," is considered one of the most original, thorough and comprehensive studies of the life and work of Christ ever prepared.

The state convention is fortunate in securing Mr. Speer for the addresses he is to deliver at it.

Patrol Not Needed.

Billy Saunby was too tired to walk this forenoon, in fact he could scarcely retain an upright position on the box where he was sitting in front of a Galena avenue store. Officer Loftus attempted to escort him to the lodgings of "Weary Willie," on Second streets but as Billy's legs would not work he was shouldered like a sack of flour by the husky police officer and carried to the calaboose.

Forty Club Surprises.

Saturday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Stephens' wedding and the remaining members of the Forty Club on the evening of that day happily surprised them. Proceeding from the Wm. Steel home to the Stephens' residence in a body, the surprise was complete. Prizes were won a cards by Mrs. Chas. Todd and William Steel. A handsome silver coffee urn was left by the club as a souvenir of their esteem.

From the Oil Fields.

Geo. H. T. Shaw returned yesterday noon from the oil fields of Texas. While there he went carefully over the oil land of the Dixon Oil company and found several seepages of oil. Several new gushers very close to their land have been struck. A combination rotary and tool drill has been purchased and drilling will soon begin on the Dixon land. Mr. Shaw brought home a large bottle of the crude oil.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk James H. Thompson:

Name.	Town.	Age.
Daniel Dean,	Amboy,	22
Mary Pabst,	"	19
Fred Brogunier,	Rockford,	32
Harriet A. French,	Ashton,	29

Ideal Club Dance.

The Ideal Club will give an informal dance party this evening at the C. J. Rosbrook hall. The hall has been prettily decorated today. It is an invitation affair and the entertainment committee consists of Messrs. C. C. Burkart, C. H. Higley and C. C. Kelly. The Dixon Mandolin Club will furnish music.

Will Open Machine Shop.

James Boyer was in Chicago last week purchasing tools and a fine lathe, which arrived this morning. He is preparing to open a machine-repair shop in the building occupied by Kimmel & Manatt on First street. He is a good workman and in such a favorable location should do a large business.

Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Peter McMahon of Eldena was today bound over to the grand jury under $500 bonds on a charge of horse-stealing. The matter came up before Justice H. R. Bartlett.

Married in Rockford Jail.

Lou Stanley, formerly of Sterling and known as "Battle Ax" Stanley, and Edward DuFoe, prisoners in the Winnebago county jail, were married Saturday morning, says the Rockford Register-Gazette. No invitations were issued and no announcement cards will be sent out, but the knot was tied fast and strong notwithstanding.

Attorney M. M. Corbett, who has represented the pair in court, was master of ceremonies. He conducted all the preliminaries, such as securing the license and a justice to perform the ceremony. The groom would have looked after the details himself but he was too busy and couldn't get off. Justice J. G. Manlove read the marriage rite.

Mr. and Mrs. DuFoe were arrested about 10 days ago on an indictment from the January grand jury, charging them with conducting a house of ill fame. They decided that the easiest way to get out of jail and save fines was to be married, and the ceremony was accordingly arranged.

Special Assessment Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that the County Court of Lee County has rendered a judgment for a special assessment upon the property benefited by the following improvement, to-wit: a sanitary sewer on Madison Avenue from Rock River to Third street; thence east to Peoria Avenue; thence south on Peoria Avenue to Eleventh street; on Fifth Street from Peoria Avenue to Hennepin Avenue; thence south to Eighth Street, on Third Street from Peoria Avenue to Hennepin Avenue; on Third Street from Madison Avenue to a point 50 feet west of the west line of Monroe Avenue; on Fifth Street from Highland Avenue to Peoria Avenue; on First Street from a point 75 feet west of Peoria Avenue to Madison Avenue; on Peoria Avenue from a point 100 feet south of Second Street to Third Street in the City of Dixon, Lee County, Illinois, as will more fully appear from a certified copy of the judgment on file in my office; that the warrant for the collection of such assessment is in the hands of the undersigned; said assessment is divided into ten annual installments; all installments except first bear interest at 5 per cent. For sprains, swellings and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by Rowland Bros.

Happiness depends very much on the condition of the liver and kidneys. The ill of life make but little impression on those whose digestion is good. You can regulate your liver and kidneys with HERBINE and enjoy health and buoyancy of spirits. Price 50 cents. E. M. Bunnell Co.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that anyone should tell you that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by Rowland Bros.

In anemia and most women's ailments the digestion is weak, the making of color, flesh and strength out of food, is imperfect so that the patient is weak, wan, nervous and dyspeptic. This condition can be corrected by taking a course of HERBINE. Price 50 cents. E. M. Bunnell Co.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by Rowland Bros.

MY MAIDEN BEAUTIFUL.

O red rose in the garden!
O red rose in the garden!
Saw you my maiden beautiful
Pass lither on her way?
Perchance she kissed your petals
And turned from white to red
The rose that blushed to find itself
With fairer sweets o'erspread.

O blackbird in the thicket!
And you, sad nightingale!
Heard you my maiden beautiful
Go singing down the vale?
For, kye you dulcet measure
Dance Echo hither bore,
Methinks your plaintive notes have caught
A hit they lacked before.

—Lady Lindsay in "The Prayer of St. Scholastica and Other Poems."

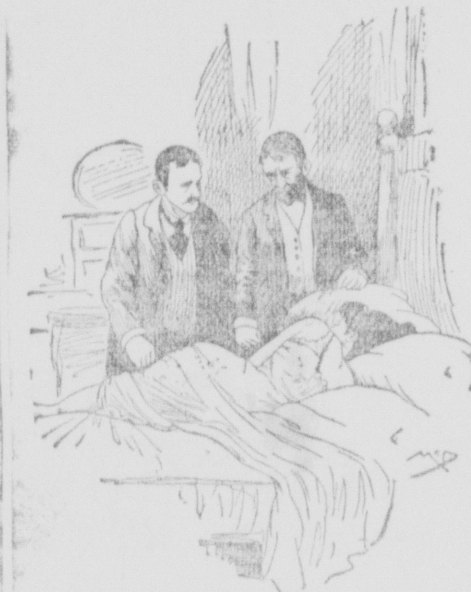

A PROFESSIONAL CALL.

By M. Quad.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

It was the public press that first gave me a lift as a young physician and surgeon, and it was the same power that almost wrought my death in the same fortnight. I had been very fortunate in a surgical operation in a charity hospital in which many people of social standing were interested, and the newspapers caught up the talk and gave me a fine send off. Not a week had passed before I received a caller who came to consult me about a case of cancer of the tongue. It was a sister of his, he said, who was the victim, and his call was to learn how I would operate and whether I would be free after 9 o'clock of an evening.

It was the fourth night after his call that the summons came. A man whom I at once took for a valet came in a cab to tell me that Mr. Gray's sister had consented to the operation and I was to go with him at once. Everything necessary except the surgical instruments had been provided, and in ten minutes I was riding through the streets of London with him. When we finally stopped after a two mile ride, the street, so far as I could make out, was a fairly respectable one, and the house we entered was detached and built of brick and stone. I took no heed of name plate or number, but followed at the young man's heels and was conducted to a room on the second floor. As I entered a sitting room near the head of the stairs I found it well lighted and Mr. Gray awaiting my arrival.

"The patient is in the next room," he said after greeting me, "but I should like to have a few words with you before going in. I wish you to understand that I am able and willing to pay you a very liberal fee."

"Yes?" I said as he looked hard at me.

"You are a young practitioner, and I have no doubt that a thousand pounds just now, with the good words spoken by the newspapers, will help you to fame and wealth. I trust you will think of this."

"But I can think of no surgical operation to bring me such a fee," I protested. "You spoke of cancer of the tongue, I believe, and the patient is a woman?"

"Exactly. Cancer of the tongue and a woman. You will doubtless find it necessary to remove at least half the tongue. You may not think such an operation worth more than £50, but I have settled your fee at a thousand."

"Has the patient been told that it may be necessary to remove a portion of the tongue?"

"Well, no, but that is a matter for us to decide on. She must submit to our decision. Remember, at least half the tongue and a fee of a thousand pounds."

I was trying to make him out when he led the way into a bedroom farther down the hall, and the instant the door was opened I got a whiff of chloroform. On the bed, partly disrobed and covered by a sheet, was a woman of about 35. A single glance was enough to prove that she was classed as a lady, although she was unconscious and breathing heavily.

"You have had another surgeon here?" I said as I opened the door to let the room clear itself.

"Oh, no," he replied. "I simply thought it better to have her under the influence of an anesthetic when you arrived. Good looking woman, isn't she? Too bad a portion of her tongue must come off."

He said these words in such a sarcastic tone that I looked him full in the eyes and began to doubt him, but as he motioned for me to approach the bed I did so and soon had the woman's jaws open and was looking for the cancer. There was nothing of the sort to be found. The tongue was without blemish of any sort.

"There seems to be some mistake here," I said as I turned from the bed. "You told me this was a case of cancer, but I find nothing of the sort."

"Yes," he slowly replied, looking from me to the unconscious woman. "Yes, there is a mistake. Instead of a cancerous tongue it is a lying tongue. Instead of being my sister she is my wife. For two years she has been playing me false. You cannot remove the face, which has worn a loving smile all through my disgrace, but you can prevent the tongue from speaking more lies."

"Man, you must be crazy!" I exclaimed in indignation. "Is this what you brought me here for—to mutilate?"

"That is it," he replied as he rubbed his hands together. "You will cut away such portion of her tongue as will prevent her from ever speaking another sentence. I trusted her and believed in her, but she lied to me and dishonored me. To your work, and your fee is ready. It is a thousand pounds in hand."

"Good night, sir—I am going," I said as I started for the door, but I had not taken three steps when I was seized from behind and held as in a vise. Unheard by me, a second man had entered the room.

"But you see you are not going," laughed the husband as he rubbed his hands again, "at least not until after the operation. It is no use being foolish over it. You will either do as I order you to or—"

"Or what?" I asked.

"I will take revenge on you as well!" he quietly replied.

"Then take your revenge, for I'll have nothing to do with your case!"

I think he was satisfied that I meant what I said, for after a long look at me he picked up a bottle of chloroform and a sponge and after filling the sponge applied it to my nose. Do not imagine I took the situation serenely. On the contrary, I shouted and struggled, and it was only after I had been thrown to the floor by the combined efforts of the two men that they succeeded in depriving me of my senses. I knew when I was going and wondered in what part of London I was and what sort of fate would be meted out to me. The next thing I knew I was in a hospital, with a doctor seeking to revive me. I had been picked up on the street by two policemen and carried in to the place. I was supposed to have taken too much wine and then been run over by a passing carriage. The hospital was a mile and a half from my office, and I had no doubt been carried to the spot where I was found by the two men and a carriage. If the husband had meant to have revenge on me, he had thought better of it.

You may be sure I put the case in the hands of the police, but nothing came of it. They found a score of streets and a score of houses which answered to the faint description I could give, but were sure of none. What the fate of the woman was I could only conjecture. Perhaps the husband relented toward her as well and was satisfied with casting her off.

A Cornet Performance.

In the early part of Queen Victoria's reign a very talented family of the name of Distin earned considerable fame both in this country and on the continent by their singing and admirable performance upon a quietest of sax-horns. Subsequently the party broke up, and one of the members essayed to start a musical instrument shop in Cranbourn street, Leicester square. He was, however, in very indifferent pecuniary circumstances, and his "store" had hardly advanced beyond its four bare walls, which Distin himself was engaged in whitewashing, when a customer arrived and demanded a cornet.

Hastily explaining that his goods were not yet unpacked, but that if his customer would wait a few minutes he would procure him what he wanted, Distin slipped out of the back door and took a cab to a wholesale house in the city, where he obtained on approval a cornet, value 25 shillings. Returning with this, he expatiated upon its beauties and to prove them performed upon it himself so superbly that his customer, convinced that he had here a really exceptional instrument, very readily paid the 10 guineas demanded.

This sum, it is said, enabled Distin to start a business which was rapidly successful and eventually sold for a considerable amount.—Good Words.

A Very Curious Plant.

There is a curious plant, said to be a native of Palestine, but which grows freely in England, which is called Calvary clover and which in appearance is like ordinary clover. It is said that to thrive it must be sown on Good Friday. The leaves as they appear above the ground have a blood red spot on each division of the leaf, which will remain for some weeks, eventually dying away. The three leaflets during the day stand in the form of a cross, with the head erect and arms extended, but with the setting sun the arms are brought together, and the upper leaflet bows over them as if in the act of prayer.

Calvary clover has a yellow flower which in time becomes a little spiral pod covered with sharp thorns and which when ripened distinctly resembles a "crown of thorns." It is thus by its blood stained leaves, its extended arms and bowed head and by the day when the seed is sown to await its resurrection that it has gained for itself the name of Calvary clover.

Franklin Slept in Salt Water.

The sleeping girl now and then comes to the front with one of her prolonged slumbers of several days' duration, and one is reminded of the feat of Franklin, as he himself tells it. The philosopher in this case is entitled to public confidence, but an unknown witness would not be credited. "Monday, July 25, at Southampton, I went at noon to bathe in Martin's salt water bath and, floating on my back, fell asleep and slept for over an hour, by the watch, without sinking or turning over, a thing I never did before nor should hardly have thought it possible."—National Magazine.

CAPTURING A PASSENGER.

The Hackman Tried Many Pleas, the Last a Funny One.

"I like perseverance in a man, even in a hackman," began Peterson, "and there is one particular Jehu doing business in Washington who possesses that quality in the superlative degree."

"When I visited the Capital City, I had my mind fully made up to have nothing to do with the hackmen, so when I stepped off the train and a crowd of these gentry began shouting at me I simply shook my head and passed on. One of them, however, was not to be thus easily disposed of. Dancing around in front of me so as to block my progress, he vociferated:

"Hack, mister? Take you to the Washington monument or the capitol? Only half a dollar!"

"Again I shook my head.

"Smithsonian institution or treasury building? Take you to both of 'em for 75 cents?"

"Still I shook my head.

"Arlington and Fort Myer? Drive you over and back for $2?"

"As before I responded with a shake of the head.

"Navy yard or Soldiers' home? Either place for a dollar."

"Another shake of the head.

"Want to go to the White House and see the president? Drive you right there for 50 cents!"

"More head shaking.

"Patent office or state department? Same price as the White House!"

"Another shake. Mind you, all this time I hadn't opened my mouth or uttered a word, and from the puzzled look on the hackman's face I thought I had him about discouraged. But as I shoved past him, thinking to make my escape, his countenance suddenly brightened up and I heard him mutter:

"By George, I've hit it now! I'll try him just once more!" And then, running in front of me again, he spelled out on his fingers in the deaf and dumb alphabet, with which I chanced to be familiar, "Deaf and Dumb asylum? Take you right to the door for a quarter!"—Woman's Home Companion.

LAUNDRY LINES.

If coffee is spilled on linen, the stains can be removed by soaking the part for 12 hours in clear cold water to which a little borax has been added.

After you have washed and ironed your ribbons draw them swiftly under the flatiron, holding it on one edge. Do this two or three times and your ribbon will not be stiff, but soft and pliable.

To wash very yellow or grimy things make an emulsion of kerosene, clear linewater and turpentine in equal parts. Shake them together until creamy, then add a cupful to a boilerful of clothes and boil for half an hour.

Acetic acid (concentrated vinegar) will restore colors that have been injured by the alkali in soap or by soda, ammonia or substances of a similar nature. Conversely stains made with acids, which are hostile to some dark colors, may be removed with dissolved soda.

Bugs In Vegetables.

People who have an objection to bugs in their food need to take much pains with the cleansing of vegetables, especially succulent plants, such as asparagus, greens, lettuce, etc., before cooking or serving up raw. If left for awhile, tips downward, in well salted water, the plants will drop an interesting assortment of discouraged living creatures on the bottom of the vessel, and more may be gathered by carefully brushing and rinsing the crevices and hollows of the plants. When cooked, this animal food may be harmless to those who like it, but in uncooked salads it is possible to swallow dangerous germs unless they are knocked out by the help of antiseptic salt. The same precautions are commended to prudence and refinement with respect to fruits.—Medical Record.

Depew and Platt.

Chauncey M. Depew used to have in his collection of curiosities a certain telegraphic dispatch which never failed to interest the politicians to whom he showed it. The telegram was sent to Mr. Depew, then president of the New York Central railroad, by Mr. Platt shortly before the latter's election to a second term in the senate. It is dated a few stations above Poughkeepsie and reads:

Please stop the noon express here to take on Mrs. Platt and Me Too.

"I stopped the train gladly," Mr. Depew would say when he exhibited it. "I am always willing to do a favor for a man who turns a joke on himself."

The Marriage Cure.

One remedy against indigestion is matrimony. At least The Lancet tells us that it is the celibate young barrister, the lonely curate in lodgings, the struggling bachelor journalist or business man or clerk who suffers most from premature dyspepsia because he eats alone. He generally reads during his meals, which is bad, or he reads directly he has belted his food, which is likewise bad. Obviously, therefore, matrimony is a bar to indigestion.—Lady's Pictorial.

Tastes Differ.

Dealer—Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend—sound, kind—

Old Lady—Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high.

Dealer—Eh?

Old Lady—I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground, so he can see where he's going.—New York Weekly.

Which Was It?

"Are we slaves or are we free men?" thundered the orator. "I pause for a reply."

"Some of us are married," came the answer from the last row of seats.—New York Sun.
